

Hello Members of College,

For those of you who don't know me, my name is Jing and I am running to be your Trinity Board of Stewards Non-Resident Member at Large.

First, thank you for taking the time to read this position paper because at this point it's week three and we're all hoping it's over soon. So thank you for your patience and consideration. Furthermore, I sincerely hope you enjoy my photo!

This year, I have had the amazing opportunity to be more involved with the Trinity community. In the past year, I have served on the Conversat exec as Communications and on the TWIL exec as one of two Mentorship Coordinators. I was also an Orientation Leader in September and am very excited to be co-chairing Orientation Week 2017.

These positions have all been more than exciting and sweet, and as such, I would like to apply this to student governance here at the College. The TCBS exists to engage in the spirit of clubs and other student events. If elected, I hope to reach out to students that are not as connected with student governance, such as commuters and international students, allowing them to be a greater part of the tight-knit Trin community. Moreover, having presented at the TCBS this year, I know the tough questions asked and the concerns that the committee has. Thus, I would hope to make TCBS suggestions and concerns more transparent to the clubs and committees that present to ensure that both sides achieve their goals (without any yelling/crying/and snakey behaviour). I also love meetings and I will willingly trek to the Adams room from a place further than Whit! Lots of fun!
