

Juliette Teodoro – NRAC Secretary

Members of College,

For those of you who don't know me, my name is Juliette Teodoro. I am a second year student studying Neuroscience and Nutritional Sciences with a minor in Psychology. But enough about me and more about what I am planning to contribute as NRAC Secretary to the Non-Resident Affairs Committee!

As your NRAC Secretary, I will first and foremost do my very best to represent all of the non-resident and commuter students affiliated with Trinity College. Through this position, I hope to bring more integration and inclusivity of commuter students into the College environment and community. This starts by informing commuter students about all of the events, opportunities and resources that are available and by facilitating the process for commuter students to attend said events and gain opportunities whether it be through student governance or by being a part of Trinity College clubs. In addition to this, by also addressing any concerns that you may have about any aspect of Trinity College life.

In NRAC meetings, I plan to prepare meeting agendas, take intricate and detail-oriented minutes and publish meeting minutes promptly after the meeting has occurred to ensure that the commuter community is constantly kept in the know. I believe because of my organized, trustworthy and dependable manner, I am both qualified and determined to serve as your NRAC Secretary!

Thank you for your consideration,

Juliette Teodoro
