

Members of College,

It's the time of election again. In this academic year I have get involved in many activities to make our community more inclusive, as an international student member of TCBS, and an exec of TCCSA. I have attended several TCM and most of the TCBS meetings, also participated in the process of holding Chinese student events and encouraging first years to get involved in the student governance. However, the meetings inside the Adam's room and the butterfly also made me more aware of that our college still has much space to be developed.

If I were elected to be a non-res member of TBCS, I will take advantage of my experiences, not only as an international student, but also a new commuter who hopes to get involved in the college events. Based on my experience this year, I will keep raising awareness of the minorities among the club leaders and other TCBS members. As I have been living on res for two years, I believe my new identity as a commuter next year will give me more inspiration on how to solve the inconvenience that non-res students have. Meanwhile, I will keep my mind open and get more involved with NRAC and other commuters.

I always believe that our college, can be, and should be home to everyone. When there is a will, there is the way. Let's make our college better.

Met'Agona,
Yiran Li (Katherine)
