Dear Members of College,

Despite being one of the smallest colleges, Trinity has one of the highest autonomous student budget—over $270,000 just this year alone—more than enough to buy a gown for every student in the college. (2,160 gowns, $125 each)

To ensure the money goes where it should, budgets goes though multiply steps involving club treasurers, Student Heads, TCM, and FC. While promoting accountability, transparency gets lost along the way. An average Trinity student would be hard-pressed to answer where our budget goes.

I hope to bring a bit of transparency back. By making our finances and budgeting process more accessible, and advocate funds where they could bring the most benefit to more students. Thank you.

Met'agona,

Kevin Hong
