

Hannah Cho- Third Year Female Head of Non-Residence

Dear Members of College,

My two years spent at Trinity have left me astounded at how much the College has come to mean to me. When looking back at trying to keep up with Trin's events while balancing academic and household responsibilities, it is incredible how falling asleep on the TTC during early morning and midnight commutes, weekends crashing with friends, and daily Strachan sitting with my store bought salads have become staples in my life. Being a commuter is undeniably hard, and the struggle of staying involved? I can relate.

Trinity's traditions and community have graced me with a sense of belonging that I hope to extend to others. My experience co-chairing Conversat has given me invaluable experience facilitating college events as well as collaborating with my peers and administration to do so. It is my wish to continue doing this as a Third Year Head.

My biggest goal in the role would be to make Trinditions like Christmas Dinner and Female Leadership High Table just as accessible to Trinity's commuters as to its residents. Among other initiatives, I want to introduce and publicize the storage spaces to be allocated for students' formal wear and gowns during the day.

If you have any questions regarding commuter life, school or would just like to know if I really wasn't a resident in my first year, please don't hesitate to contact me via Facebook, or my email at hannahc.cho@mail.utoronto.ca.

Met'agona,

Hannah C Cho
