

SECRETARY OF NRAC

Hey Girliez!

I'm back, and this time running for SECRETARY of NRAC. Being a non-resident student since my second year has given me the chance to learn the ins and outs of commuter lyfe. I run a TIGHT SHIP at 682 - I'm the designated garbage take out/cleaning scheduler, which proves I've mastered the skills of organization and collaboration. I also authored the critically acclaimed article, "Buttery Shortcuts" in the most recent edition of the Salterrae, giving tips on how to save money around campus - BYOTea everyone!!! This year I sat on the SCCC and was an editor for Trinity's three publications, Salterrae, Stephanos, and The Trinity Review. I would like to have a reason to continue trolling around NRAC and I think being NRAC secretary would give me a great excuse to do so. I'm always in there taking snacks anyways, so I may as well be helping replenish them!

Overall, our current NRAC team did a terrific job (<3) and I'd love to get the chance to help out the incoming headz. PCE and Love.

XOXO
Anna
