Hi Trinity, and welcome to Elections Week 2!

For those of you who may not know me, I am a first year student living in Rowlinson and hoping to pursue a specialist degree in IR.

Many moons ago when I was trying to decide where to go for school, my very sage great aunt told me not to worry, that I would know where to go because I would walk in and feel with certainty that it was where I belong.

When I stepped into Trinity I knew instantly I had found that place. A place where aspiring diplomats, doctors, musicians, astrophysicists, entrepreneurs, and writers Strachan-sit together and with equal interest discuss the implications of a Trump presidency or last night's Buttery party. A community of people as unique as our traditions with truly ~boundless~ potential. I know, super sappy, but it's true.

During my first year here, I have been very fortunate to participate extensively in academic, extracurricular, and social life. This has afforded me an understanding of governance at the College, the ability to efficiently coordinate events, and the opportunity to work with many of the candidates for the other leadership positions.

Having lived in a non-social part of residence this year, I am also acutely aware of some of the barriers to participation that students face and ways to resolve these challenges. I believe this position has great potential to encourage increased involvement of junior year students and that I have the energy, enthusiasm, and experience to make that happen.

Trinity, you inspire me everyday to work harder, play harder, and aim higher. If elected as your Second Year Female Head of Residence, I will do all of those things in order to serve your needs and bring about meaningful changes which improve your experience here.

Met'agona,

Sarah
