

Magi Jury Leung - Male Head of Arts

Dear Members of College,

Hi, for those who don't know me that well, I am Magi Jury Leung, but you can call me Jury. I am a second year majoring in International Relations and Health Studies. Although I am new to Canada, it has never stopped me from participating in College affairs and University-wide events. Throughout my university experience, I am currently the VP of the Aviation Club, the Council Affair Manager for the International Student Association, and also the founder of the U of T Student Health Association. Within Trinity College, I am serving as a committee member of the SCCC and one of the advocates of the Trinity College Chinese Students Association. .

First and Foremost: The Life of the Party: I agree with the current Head of Arts, that throwing awesome parties should be the number one priority for Heads of Arts. Being a small community, parties have always been the way for the Trinity College student body to connect and to get to know each other.

Accessibility for Non-Resident Members of College: Thanks to the current Student Heads, Trinity College is trying its best to make all events as accessible as possible. However, for most of the events hosted by Trinity College, there is an unfortunately small number of non-resident students who attend. Therefore, I propose several ways to make all events more accessible to non-resident students. Firstly, I propose that common rooms are to be held open for commuting students after major Trinity events. I understand that the college administration will be concerned about non-resident students being hosted in common rooms, but I believe that it's safer for Trinity College students to stay in common rooms as opposed to using the TTC late at night. If that do not work, a pairing system between resident and nonresident students to stay over could also be considered. Second, we should continue to support the current renovation for the non-res common room in the Buttery. Finally, I will be extremely active in notifying people about both big and small events at Trinity.

Inclusiveness for members of all backgrounds Trinity College should always be a college that welcomes people with all different kinds of backgrounds. Each year, this unique college attracts international students from all around the globe. These international students not only allow domestic Trinity students to be exposed to different cultures and have a diverse student body. As a student with an international background, I understand that it can be difficult to participate in College events, however I have several ideas to promote inclusivity! I will communicate with diverse groups within the college, POC at Trin, Rainbow Trin, the Korean Student Association, and the Chinese Student Association with the intention to host an International/Diversity Week. This Week would consist of different student groups introducing their own cultures to Trinity College by hosting events like potluck, and culture movie night. I would also like to advocate for the creation of student positions that would increase the awareness of international students in College affairs. An example of a position would be the "International Student Position" created in the last TCBS meeting, illustrating the need of more participation of international students.

Townhalls and Office hours: I have had the privilege of attending several Townhalls at Trinity College. I have found that it is a useful way for the Heads to collect ideas and feedback from other members of college. I have noticed a trend in the more recent Townhalls; more and more students are willing to participate and address issues that everyone at Trinity is concerned with. In addition, if I am elected I would welcome communication from anybody, via Facebook or even just knocking on my door. I will also be more than happy to host office hours from time to time.

More support for First Year Students: I think it's important to help them adjust to college life in every way possible. To that end I will be extremely welcoming and friendly, and will let them know where all the important things are at Trinity. Important things like where the registrar is, how to pronounce Strachan ("Strawn"), and that they should KNEEL FOR THE BISHOP!

If I got elected, I can't promise that I can stop climate change. But I will promise you that I can make Trinity College great again! If you would like the Chinese or Korean Version or any questions about the position paper, please feel free to contact me via Facebook or magijury@gmail.com .

In Hoc Signo Vincas,
Magi Jury Leung
