

Avneet Sharma for Editor-in-Chief of The Salterrae

Members of College,

It is with immense honour and excitement that I announce my candidacy for editor-in-chief of the Salterrae.

I have been a regular contributor to the Salterrae since my first year, including as Director of Communications this past year. I believe that the Salterrae is currently experiencing a creative high in terms of content and design, while redefining its role in the Trinity community. It would be a wonderful opportunity to guide the Salterrae through this distinct phase.

Changes I would like to make next year include establishing a style guide to ensure consistency in copy and design, holding regular pitch meetings and office hours to involve more students, and creating an official website to showcase long-form features such as fiction, interviews, and photo essays.

If elected, I believe that I can bring together the skills I have acquired working in both copy and design for numerous campus publications to ensure continued excellence and quality of the Salterrae.

Thank you for your consideration.

Met'Agona Stephanos,

Avneet Sharma

Previous experience:

- Director of Communications, Salterrae
- Contributing Writer, Salterrae
- Columnist, The Varsity
- Staff, UC Gargoyle
- Copy Editor, UC Review

Goals for next year:

- Establish Salterrae style guide
- Create official Salterrae website
- Pitch meetings for each issue
- Office hours to discuss potential articles, provide feedback, and general inquiries

Avneet Sharma

(647) 244-4949

avneet.sharma@mail.utoronto.ca

Feel free to contact me if you have any questions or inquiries!