

Members of College,

When walking through the quad from time to time, I pause. I look around at the place that has given me so much over the last two years. Trinity is a truly special place, made even more so by its students. Over my time here, I have had the opportunity to participate in many of the uniquely Trin events. From being a frosh leader, coaching the upper year Conversat bowl team (great job to everyone that played!), to being the treasurer for PoC at Trin, I have interacted with the Trin community in a number of different ways. I believe that these experiences have given me the insight as to how to best improve this community. While each university experience is unique, it is my hope that I can help contribute to all Trinity students having as positive an experience as I have as your 2017-18 Male Head of Arts.

Creating a positive social environment in and out of Welch will be a major focus for me. I will work so that events in Welch represent the wide range of interests held by members of college. In addition to the regularly scheduled events, I would like to add another night-in similar to the Saints and Conversat nights-in to promote this. Trin goes-to outings would also reflect this desire for diverse programming. Potential events that I would like to organize would be a trip to a Blue Jays game, Friday night at the ROM, and trampoline dodge ball.

As your 2017-18 Male Head of Arts, there are a few significant improvements to the college that I would like to initiate. As was seen as recently as this election season, the current communications systems do not work for all Trinity students. Next year, I hope to work with the Dean's Office to make sure that everything from club programming, to calls for executive positions, can be sent to all Trin student in ways other than social media. Every member of college here pays the fees that go towards this programming, and it is only fair that all students should at least know of the available programming. Additionally, I would ensure that a Trinity College Sexual Assault Policy was implemented. We have taken great steps as a community when it comes to awareness and education, and I hope to use this as a stepping stone to creating a lasting, and meaningful improvement to the Trin community. While the UofT wide policy was a fantastic step to take this year, implementation, explanation and organization of the policy at a college level has yet to have been reached. Along with the other Heads for next school year, the administration, and the Trinity community, I would work towards adopting a policy that makes Trin as safe as possible for all its students.

If anyone wishes to talk to me about any of the issues I am running on, or any issues you hope to see addressed in the Trin community, please feel free to ask me in person, at forums, or email me at Theodore.browne@mail.utoronto.ca
